Mark and Danny are brothers. They've just moved into a large abandoned farm with their parents. At one time the farm yielded the best crops, had the largest barns, and the animals... well, they might have been dinosaurs. Mark and Danny spend their days and nights trying to find proof that dinosaurs once lived on the farm. The clues lead them to an old legend, and a dark cave that holds a secret larger than time itself.

Raphael is a kid who loves dinosaurs. So you can imagine his surprise when he discovers a real, live dinosaur egg on his grandparents' farm. Will it be a meat eating dinosaur or a plant eating dinosaur? Will it be a dinosaur at all? While things may not always be as they seem, Raphael's adventure leads him to a new friend. RAPHAEL'S WALKER Raphael uses a walker, but his story is not about his walker. In fact, his walker is not even mentioned in the story.
